OLD FASHION DAY

New Hope Baptist Church

On September 10, following morning worship, New Hope Baptist will have a special presentation as they recognize the MARCHING MOTHERS, Joyce Clemons Kittell, Phillip Partridge (descendents) and Mrs. Hackney (descendents). They also plan to do a partial reenactment of the 1954-56 walk lead by Joyce Kittrell from New Hope to the site of the old Webster School building and back to New Hope. Following the walk there will be a fellowship dinner in the dining room of the church. The purpose is to promote diversity, inclusiveness and racial harmony. The community is invited to attend. Morning worship starts at 11:00 am. Please meet no later than 12:30pm.

If you have questions, contact Bro. Lee Smith at 937-393-5111.

Doesn't time fly? Here we are at the end of summer....again! But if you think back each ending means a beginning. So even though we are at the end of summer, we are at the beginning of Fall!

This Fall, we will start new programs and schedules. This is exciting. A new focus and a new way of looking at God's ministry through our children and our programs.

Beginning on September 10th, you will notice that during our 10 am Sunday Worship, there will be all generations in our sanctuary. The children will remain in the service, sitting with their parents, from the opening procession until the end of Holy Eucharist. After taking communion, they may be directed to follow their teachers to the classroom. We often imagine that having children in worship causes chaos, but it is a wonderful thing! I will do a children's sermon every week and they will come to look forward and wait for their special message. For the wee children, we plan to open a nursery room next to the classrooms on the ground floor of the CEC building. Also, we have Angel Bags, located on the wall under the steps in the Narthex (foyer). The Angel Bags have crayons and paper/pictures to color. Soft toys are also in some of the bags. Feel free to get one for your child and remember to put it back after church for the next week.

Our Sunday School program has changed. With Phyllis and Paul retiring from teaching, we decided to revamp our wonderful program and include some lessons specific to the Episcopal Church; such as seasons and colors of the church year, following the Lectionary, and all about Jesus! Under the direction of Debby Shuler, and a few dedicated teachers, our children will be put into two groups, older and younger, with a focus to fit the age group. We see lots of fun ideas floating around in the Sunday School classrooms. Parents, encourage your children to participate!

This new schedule provides a space for an Adult Forum at the Coffee Hour in Lacy Hall. This may not be an every Sunday occurrence but, depending on your response, we will invite speakers and teachers to present to you.

Another change will be the introduction of younger children as Acolyte, so encourage your children, aged 10 or up, to become trained.

Sometimes it is hard to navigate through change, but this will be a "small step for mankind....." and a large jump for our faith growth.

St. Mary's Summer Picnic

St. Mary's had a wonderful picnic at Nancy Orth's home and the weather cooperated beautifully with cloudy skies making it cool and comfortable, with no rain, on Sunday, August 6. It was lovely just getting there traveling the road south with gentle curves and rolling hills.

Everyone brought delicious food and treats that made a banquet in the great outdoors. Even a "Bear", Lowell's beautiful dog, and "Whitney", Nancy's dog, joined the group making it a treat for everyone.

Extra special was seeing and hearing the wings of a humming bird dart around the colorful flowers. And, you could easily imagine deer coming out of the woods approaching the wood fence.

Thank you, Nancy Orth, for sharing your very special home with us.

Dolphins, Rainbows and Miracles

We found a little bit of heaven here on Earth when we vacationed on St John in the U. S. Virgin Islands. The island is mostly National Park, small villages, pristine white beaches, good restaurants and duty-free shops. We stayed on Hart Beach in a villa with it's own pool, lovely views of the ocean and wonderful breezes. Our children ran free to chase geckos, hermit crabs and to pick up sea glass and shells. We went there nine times. Fred and I joked that we'd like to have our final resting place on the island.

Katrina recently had a vacation in Tampa, Florida. Before she left, she called to ask if she could have some of her dad's ashes to sprinkle in the Gulf of Mexico. She reasoned that would be as close to St. John as we could get, and that maybe they would float to the Caribbean. I agreed, She came to Hillsboro to pick them up.

The last morning she was at the beach, she went to a quiet area and prayed for her father, and thanked God for giving her a father who loved her no-matter-what. As she was finishing, it started to drizzle. She looked up and saw a rainbow. "Thank you, God, I'm going to take that as a sign that all is well with my father." She started to walk away. But stopped to say, "God, I'd like to see a dolphin." A dolphin jumped in front of her four times and swam off. ""Thank you, God! Now I know you really love me!"

PARISH NEWS

A Course in Miracles continues throughout the winter months. We meet each Monday at 2 pm in the Conference Room. A Course in Miracles is a program to strengthen our understanding of God in our world and our response to God and the World. Lots of discussion and "outside the box" learning.

Homecoming Sunday: The children's programs and the Adult Forum, mentioned in Rev Judi's article, begins this Sunday. Bring a friend, invite your neighbor and celebrate all that God will provide for us in the coming year! September 10th, 10am worship, Sunday School follows!

The Bishop has invited us to a Convocation (meaningful gathering) at Procter Conference Center in London, OH on Saturday, September 16th, beginning at 9 am. We've been invited to bring a group from St Mary's. See Rev Judi if you are interested in attending.

Wanted:

Someone to trim the hedges in the Memorial Garden.

Someone to remove the hedges in the front of the church and CEC Building.

Someone to plan and plant a section of the dirt area on the path/sidewalk going up to the door to enter the hallway between the church and CEC building. We would like this to be a Meditation Pathway and flowers would be lovely. See Rev Judi if you have a suggestion or want to plant a section. Plaques and statues are welcomes. Benches would be perfect along the wall.

If you are interested in becoming a member of the Vestry for the 2018-2020 years, please let a current vestry person know. Elections are at Annual Meeting in January 2018.
